Diehard Abel Ferrara fans may finally get to see the indie director's "Go Go Tales," thanks to distributor Jay Kubassek. The screwball comedy about a Manhattan cabaret -- which stars Willem Dafoe, Asia Argento, Matthew Modine, Bob Hoskins and Sylvia Miles -- was made three years ago, but it's been tied up in court after two of Ferrara's former partners sued him to get a writing credit. But the director recently told Kubassek, " 'Go Go' is yours if you can untangle the legal mess." Kubassek, whose Aliquot Films distributed Ferrara's quirky Chelsea Hotel documentary, "Chelsea on the Rocks," took up the challenge. "I have a top lawyer working on this and there is an imminent light at the end of the tunnel," he said. "I've seen it and it's terrific." Kubassek and fellow producer Jen Gatien just wrapped production of "Meskada," a creepy mystery starring Kellan Lutz and Nick Stahl.
